

I received a message from our attorney general regarding the petition to weaken our state's current no-call laws and I would urge you not to make these changes. It is not fair for unwanted interruptions from companies which I have no intention of ever doing business with. Just a one example, my grandmother broke her hip in an attempt to answer the phone call of a telemarketer and was forever forced to use a walker for the rest of her life. That may seem like a rare occurrence but a senseless one none-the-less.
